

Index

Introduction [1]

P A R T I

KNOWLEDGE AND INTERPRETATION

CHAP. 1 The picture of the situation

- a) Definition of the problem. [9]
- b) Theoretical approach. [11]

CHAP. 2 What it is usability

- a) Definition of usability. [15]
- b) The usability of the internet sites for children in detail. [16]
 - Planning the pages.
 - Planning the contents.
 - Planning the whole site.
 - International contents.
- c) Global considerations. [65]

CHAP. 3 Ergonomics

- a) Definition of ergonomics. [69]
- b) The HCI: the human factor. [71]
- c) The ergonomics of the internet sites for children. [80]
- d) Ergonomics of the browser. [88]
- e) Principles of universal design. [93]
- f) Some partial conclusion. [95]

CHAP. 4 Internet Semiology

- a) The human communication through the electronic medium. [99]
- b) Some considerations. [108]

CHAP. 5 Psychology of the Cyberspace

- a) Considerations generate them. [111]
- b) Psychology of the Cyberspace. [116]
- c) Constructionism. [131]

P A R T II

COMPARISON

CHAP. 6 The one which exists

- a) The criteria of reference for the choice of the sites. [137]
- b) The services offer. [139]
- c) Situated analyses of the champion of the available ones. [174]
- d) Final considerations. [185]

CHAP. 7 Observation

- a) The usability testing. [189]
- b) The used laboratory. [195]
- c) Results analysis. [198]
- d) Final considerations. [211]

P A R T III

DISSEMINATION

CHAP. 8 Possible uses

- a) Scenario. [217]
- b) The use of 3D: a new dimension. [219]
- c) Conclusions of the entire job. [225]

Reasoned bibliography [229]